Forecast For Tayside, Central & Fife
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Thursday 28 Jan 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Some heavy rain and snow tonight, Friday morning, easing later.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy with further spells of rain sleet and snow. The snow mainly affecting higher ground of northern Perthshire and upland Angus with some moderate to heavy falls building up. Rain heaviest over Angus Dundee and East Fife. Fresh northeasterlies. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Friday:
Further rain and upland snow, some heavy, gradually easing in the afternoon. Becoming clear and frosty in the evening with icy stretches. Maximum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mainly dry, bright, but cold with widespread frost. A few isolated wintry showers in northern Tayside, Angus, perhaps around Dundee and coastal Fife.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.